

THE FUTURE IS TEAL

a mutually beneficial experience

Self Management

What if we create much more powerful & fluid systems of distributed authority?

Wholeness

What if we finally drop the mask, and dare to be fully ourselves?

Evolutionary Purpose

What if we stop trying to force the future into existence?

What if instead we simply dance with what wants to emerge?

Hello Richard,

As you, I have never worked on this kind of project, but it turned out to be an enriching experience.

A few other things...

My intended audience is:
Business conference attendees at which I am speaking. My infographic is also on display in a booth before I speak. The intention is to invite questions regarding the Teal Business Model of Management, as it will be the topic of my presentation.

Also - I used a Native American quote at the bottom of my infographic which reflects the Caritas value #3 Cultivation of sensitivity to oneself and others.

Thank you.
